STATISTICS OF PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOLS, 1921-1922.

CONTENTS.—Introduction—Enrollment—Teachers—Survivals—Statistical tables.

INTRODUCTION.

Statistics for public high schools for 1922 include reports from 14,056 such schools. Of this number, 387 are junior high schools, 1,088 are junior-senior, and 91 are three-year senior high schools.

All two-year, three-year, and four-year junior high schools, which are separately organized, have been included in the statistics of junior high schools. The junior portions of junior-senior high schools have been included in the junior-senior statistics. All types of junior-senior high schools, whether organized on the 2-4, 4-2, 2-3, 3-2, 3-3, or 6-year undivided plan, are included in the statistics of junior-senior high schools. Only three-year schools containing grades corresponding to the traditional 10, 11, and 12, when separately organized as senior high schools have been included in the statistics of senior high schools. In tables showing enrollment in elementary grades, the sixth and seventh grades of those schools having only seven years in the elementary course are tabulated with the seventh and eighth grades of schools having eight years of elementary work.

ENROLLMENT.

Although 270 fewer schools returned schedules in 1922 than in 1920, an increase in enrollment of 372,287 pupils is reported, bringing the total to 2,229,442. Of this number, 35,731 are colored, this group making an increase of 8,100 over 1920. These increases are rather evenly distributed throughout the various years of the course.

The statistics gathered this year include enrollment by subject. Complete reports were received from 13,700 public high schools. A tabulation is made to show this item by five-year periods, excepting that the figures for 1922 are used instead of those for 1920. Enrollment in the various courses in English was given in so many different ways that it was found best to tabulate that subject to show the number of students taking one or more courses in English, as reported to the bureau. This accounts for part of the reduction in enrollment in that subject since 1915.

TEACHERS.

The total number of teachers reported is 113,680, an increase of 16,030 over 1920. The greater increase is in the number of men teachers.

SURVIVALS.

The survival percentages given in Table 2 are obtained by dividing the enrollment for the first year of the course for a calendar year as a basis into the enrollment of the next year higher in the course for the next calendar year and so on until the last year of the course. No adjustments have been made for the following items: Increase in population, deaths, immigration, retardation, and duplication. Increase in population is about constant. The death rate remains constant at a little over 4 per thousand, excepting that it was higher in 1918-19. Immigration has varied considerably during the past 10 years. Retardation is usually higher in the earlier years of the high-school course. Duplication is perhaps a constant error.
